(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, June 3.—The French held the Germans everywhere last night. The enemy losses were heavy. The French took prisoners, the war office reports.

The French counter-attacked along the whole front between the Ourcq and the Marne and made progress at several points.

A violent German attack on both sides of the road between Chateau Thierry and Paris was broken up by the French.

The statement follows:
"Our troops continued their counter-attacks during the night along the whole front between the Ourcq and the Marne and gained ground at several points. A violent German attack delivered on both sides of the road between Chateau-Thierry and Paris was broken up by the French fire southeast of Bourches. Everywhere else the French maintained their positions."

"The losses suffered by the enemy in these actions were heavy. The French took hundreds of prisoners."

GERMANY CARRIES WARFARE TO THIS SIDE OF OCEAN.
(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.)

The Germans have carried their submarine warfare to American shores and are attacking and sinking shipping off the American Atlantic coast.

Submarine attacks were reported this morning on vessels off the New Jersey shore and a number of craft are known to have been sunk, as many as 15, according to one report.

The German rush towards Paris between the rivers, Marne and Ourcq, was halted last night, according to today's official statement from Paris. French troops stood their ground firmly at the point of greatest impact near the Marne and counter-attacks drove back the enemy in other sections of the battlefield to the northwest.

The main force of the German blow was directed along the road that runs from Chateau-Thierry to Paris. The French met it astride that road to the southeast of Bourches within less than two miles of the river and broke the assault by their heavy fire.

Heavy fighting continued all night along the whole front, northwestward to the Ourcq, a distance of about 15 miles, the French driving home numerous counter-attacks with the result that the Germans were forced to give ground at several points. Prisoners by the hundreds were taken by the French who likewise cut the Germans up severely during the various engagements.

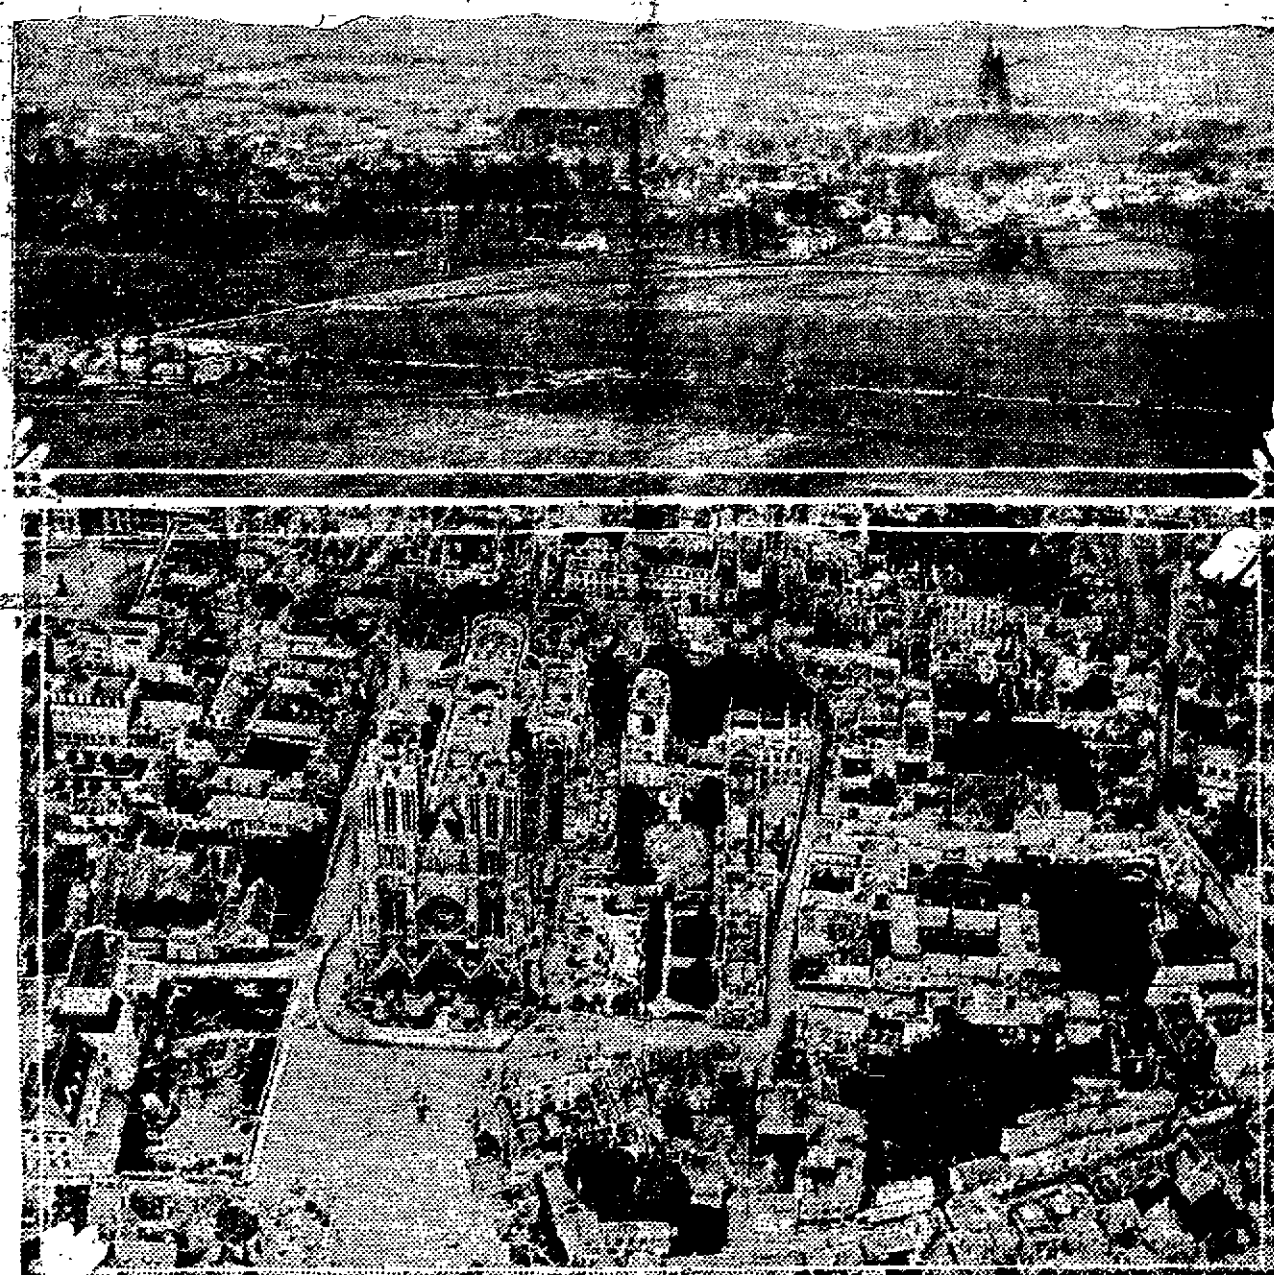

Apparently the Germans made no further progress during the night in other sectors, either on the other side of Chateau-Thierry, along the Marne and to the northeast, or in the Soissons and Noyon regions to the north, as the French are reported holding their positions everywhere.

With the exception of a gain of some ground by the British on the northern side of the Flanders salient there have been no events of moment.

Soissons, at top, as it looked before the Germans took it. Below: Rheims in path of German drive.

Soissons, French city built on a hill and famous for its extreme beauty—before the Huns broke loose—little more than a leveled mass of ruins. It was raked with artillery fire earlier in the war and swept again by German cannon before the Germans took it a few days ago in their resumed drive. Wrecked cathedrals, empty houses and debris scattered over its streets are about all that remain of the town. The lower picture shows how Rheims, devastated by previous German attacks, awaited the drive of the Kaiser's forces. The famous Rheims cathedral, in the center, is shown torn by German shells and with wreckage of other buildings lying around it.

"Successful raids resulting in the capture of twenty prisoners, three machine guns and a trench mortar were carried out by us also southeast of Arras, northwest of Lens and west of Merville."

"A hostile raiding party was repulsed south of Villers-Bretonneux."

UNDERSEA BOATS CARRY WAR TO AMERICA IN EFFORT TO CHECK THE FLOW OF AMERICAN TROOPS TO THE ALLIED BATTLE FRONTS IN EUROPE

CREW OF ONE OF THE VICTIMS SUNK BY U-BOAT LANDED BY RESCUE SHIP AT NEW YORK TODAY

Number of Ports Along Atlantic Coast Closed to Outgoing Shipping Owing to the Presence of the Hostile Craft—Two Enemy Subs attacked the Edward H. Cole, a Coastwise Steamer, and After Part of German Crew Boarded Her, Gave American Crew Ten Minutes to Leave Their Ship and Then Blew Her to Atoms With Bombs Placed On Vessel

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 3.—Germany has carried her unrestricted submarine warfare to this side of the ocean and at least three vessels have been sunk by submarine attack off the Atlantic coast.

Some reports say the number of victims already has reached fifteen.

Although the presence of German undersea boats had been reported in American waters for several days past the first definite news that they were operating off this coast came today when the crew of one victim, the schooner Edward H. Cole, was landed here. Their vessel was sunk Sunday off the New Jersey shore.

It is known that at least two u-boats are engaged in the campaign which is assumed to be aimed chiefly at the American transport service.

A report that besides the attacks on shipping off the Jersey coast a submarine was operating off Nantucket and had torpedoed a ship in those waters was not confirmed. Presumably the Germans are employing the new cruiser type of u-boats with a long steaming radius, for these operations.

The port of New York was closed to outgoing shipping as soon as news of the presence of hostile craft outside was confirmed. Similar action has been taken at other Atlantic ports.

Meanwhile advices from Washington, after officially confirming the loss of three schooners, declare that measures already in operation and others that will be added will deal with the new submarine menace.

A wireless message saying the American schooner Ella M. Wiley had been "sunk by gunfire" off Block Island was picked up by an American steamship which arrived here today from Porto Rico.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 3.—One steamship, one schooner and two or three other vessels have been sunk off the Jersey coast by German submarines. The ships were attacked sometime during the night, according to information which was received here. Details were not immediately available.

The port authorities barred the departure of outgoing ships this forenoon.

It is presumed here that the submarines are now being dealt with by American destroyers.

One of the ships sunk was the Edward H. Cole, a sailing vessel.

PASSENGER STEAMER IS BEING ATTACKED; WIRELESS FOR HELP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 3.—A wireless S. O. S. call from the New York and Porto Rico Line passenger steamship Carolina saying that she was being attacked by a submarine was received here yesterday.

The fate of the Carolina is not known. No further wireless calls were received after the call for help.

NEWS OF THE SUBMARINE ATTACK ON THE ATLANTIC COAST WAS FIRST GIVEN NAVY DEPARTMENT BY A. P. MESSAGES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 3.—Germany by striking with her submarine at the very doors of America has admitted to the world that the American army will turn the tide against her on the battlefields of France.

As first news of the submarine raid on the Atlantic coast brought to the navy department today by Associated Press dispatches, was followed by official reports, naval officials declared that the American anti-submarine forces in home waters were ample to meet the attack.

All along the coast line naval flying boats, submarine-chasers and numberless other naval craft immediately got into action.

All officials declared that the navy department was fully equipped to meet the thrust at this very fountain head of the flow of American troops to Europe and that all its agencies were being brought into full force to find the submarines and destroy them.

This challenge to the fight forces of the United States would be met, officials said, with the same measures which have driven the submarines to cover in the war zone, and the steady flow of American transports to France would be guarded with the same effective protection which has carried them through the infested waters of the British Isles and France with a remarkably low loss of life.

LONG RANGE GUN STILL WORKING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, June 3.—The bombardment of the Paris region by the German long range cannon was resumed today.

NOT OVERLOOKED PROTECTION OF AMERICAN LANE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 3.—If the German admiral expects to find the American ports unprotected because a great force of American destroyers has been concentrated in the war zone around the British Isles it will be mistaken. Naval officials say that the anti-submarine craft in the war zone are in large number, the protection of the steamer lanes on this side of the Atlantic has not been overlooked and it is said there are adequate forces in home waters to meet them.

The torpedoing of ships off Barnegat, N. J., followed by a report of more destructions off Nantuxet shoals, nearly 200 miles to the east, was taken as indicating that the hostile submarines were operating in number and that the German admiral probably was to concentrate the U-boats in a practical blockade of the principal ports of embarkation being used for American transports.

Recurrent reports of German submarines on this side of the Atlantic have been closely examined by the navy department during the last week. Reports of one German submarine near the Virginia capes were current in Hampton Roads Saturday night. It was said navy flying boats submarine chasers and other anti-submarine craft in that district immediately went to sea in search of the raiders.

The master of a British vessel arriving at Norfolk on May 27 reported having fired some shots at a submarine about 150 miles off Cape Henry. Other incoming ships at Atlantic ports for the last few days also have brought reports of sighting submarines.

transport of American troops to France.

Information received at the Maritime Exchange here indicated as many as fifteen vessels have been sunk.

There have been reports for some time that the German admiral contemplated submarine attacks on shipping on this side of the Atlantic.

The first intimation of this decision by Germany came in an address delivered in Paris by Joseph Leygues, French minister of marine on May 12.

M. Leygues in a review of the submarine situation stated that the Germans had constructed a new type of submarine cruiser with which to prey on shipping and allied transports.

Late in May it was officially reported in a British admiralty statement that a German submarine of the cruiser class had been sunk by a British convoy submarine, "in the latitude of Cape St. Vincent," which is the southwestern point of Portugal.

Then came, in rapid succession reports of submarines operating in West India waters and last week a captain of a steamship landing at Norfolk reported having sighted what he believed to be a German submarine somewhere off the Carolina capes. Later it was explained by Washington that this boat might have been an American submersible on its way to Europe.

EDWARD H. COLE WAS ATTACKED BY TWO SUBMARINES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 3.—Two submarines attacked the Edward H. Cole, according to the commander of the vessel, Captain Newcomb.

They appeared simultaneously, one on each side of the vessel, and signaled the captain to heave to. The commander of one of the submarines then boarded the schooner in a small boat and gave the crew 10 minutes to leave the ship.

The crew took to their own boats immediately and the German sailors then planted bombs on the vessel and blew her up.

Just before the explosion occurred an American steamship appeared in the offing and the U-boat immediately gave chase.

The last Captain Newcomb saw of the steamer she was making off at full speed.

The crew of the Edward H. Cole was subsequently picked up by an American auxiliary naval vessel, brought to an Atlantic port last night and thence sent here by train. They were taken in charge by naval officials.

The auxiliary vessel carrying the Edward H. Cole's crew was pursued by the submarine but escaped by taking refuge in the Atlantic port.

CREWS RESCUED AND TAKEN TO NEW YORK PORT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 3.—Beside the Edward H. Cole, the names of two other sunk ships have been reported to the navy. They are the schooner Jacob S. Haskell and the Isabella D. Willey.

A navy department statement announcing the sinking, says:

"The navy department has been informed that three American schooners have been sunk off this coast by enemy submarines.

"The steamship Bristol arriving at New York this morning, reported that the four-master schooner, Edward H. Cole, was sunk by two submarines at 6:30 p. m., Sunday, 50 miles southeast of Barnegat, N. J., and that the Bristol rescued the crew and brought them to port.

"It also rescued the crew of another sailing vessel which was sunk. The Bristol reported that she encountered a submarine 38 miles off Barnegat at 4:20 p. m., Sunday, and that two submarines were operating in that locality.

"The steamship Grecian reported that the schooner, Jacob S. Haskell, was sunk by a submarine in the general vicinity at noon Sunday. The crew was rescued.

"It was also reported that the Isabella D. Willey was shelled by submarines.

"Captain Newcomb, of the Cole, stated that his vessel was attacked by a German submarine which boarded him, took away his papers and placed bombs on board. The captain and crew took to the boats. Captain Newcomb stated that the submarine which attacked him was about 200 feet long and carried two large guns, one forward and one aft, and a smaller gun amidship.

"Captain Newcomb states that he saw distinctly one other submarine beside the one which attacked him. The second submarine being in the near vicinity, submerged with her periscope showing.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 3.—Two more American vessels, the Hattie Dunn and the Samuel W. Hathway have been sunk by German submarines.

None of the survivors were seriously injured.

The transport was attacked at 9:53 a. m. May 31. Three torpedoes were discharged, sinking the ship in 18 minutes. The submarine was not sighted until after the torpedoes were shot.

Go After the Big Profits

THE Buckeye Oil Company controls 66,000 acres of oil and gas lands in Natrona and Fremont counties, Wyoming, near the famous Big Muddy field which made Midwest Refining and Midwest Oil Company, Merritt, Oil, etc.

The Buckeye Oil Company's second well is now being drilled on this property, the first well having produced high-grade oil at a depth of 740 feet.

Within 150 feet of some of the Buckeye holdings, is a producing gas well of the Ohio Oil Company, one of the greatest corporations with an estimated daily flow of 4,000,000 cubic feet. This well was drilled in just recently, oil being secured in the first sand and gas in the second sand. This gas now is being used by both the Ohio Oil Company and Buckeye Oil Company in their drilling operations.

NATRONA and Fremont counties comprise an exceedingly rich oil territory but, on top of this, the Buckeye Oil Company's holdings are surrounded on practically all sides by producing oil fields. To the southeast is the Big Muddy field (who hasn't heard of it?); to the northeast, the famous Salt Creek field (you've heard of this too); to the northwest, the Pilot Butte and Grass Creek fields—gusher territory of this wonderful oil state which, in 1916, produced 6,234,137 barrels of Crude oil.

Having found oil; and having found coal and gas; and having had oil and coal tested and analyzed by chemists and mining engineers, with eminently satisfactory results; and having had the following report from Jenkins W. Jones, well known geologist and mining engineer whom you know, perhaps personally, The Buckeye Oil Company is going after more oil because the biggest production of oil is always found in the third and fourth sands!

Mr. Jones, after examining the Buckeye fields, said: "It is a far more alluring proposition than the Columbia Gas & Electric Company at the time I made my report and, withal, a safer proposition—it is almost beyond the field of speculation."

WE ARE going after more oil because we have every reason to believe the lands we control contain oil enough to make every present and future Buckeye Oil Company stockholder hundreds and thousands of dollars richer.

But to carry developments further, we need more capital—the capital of men who can invest 50 cents ($1 par value) a share for stock to get back twenty, and even fifty times the present market price if we are as successful as we should be. Are you willing to do your share in providing this capital if we can

WE ARE certain we can give any man sufficient evidence of our probable success in Wyoming to convince him that he can spare $100 or $1,000 for this offering of stock which has met both state and Federal requirements.

We are sure that the facts we have regarding investigations, field work, drilling, grade of oil, and coal, and actual work done, will show you that The Buckeye Oil Company is a company with excellent and clearly defined prospects.

We are sure that a study of the facts will create in you the same wonderful enthusiasm which pervades our officers, directors, stockholders and drillers. All of them feel that BUCKEYE OIL will soon take its place among the established oil producers.

Complete information awaits your request. Stock offered subject to change in price.

GERMANS REPULSED BY FRENCH AND SUFFER A HEAVY CASUALTY LIST

ment recorded on the other parts of the front.

Bitterly defending every barrier in the enemy's path, the French resistance on the western side of the Aisne salient is increasing, Sunday apparently was the poorest day the German advance has had since the offensive was renewed a week ago today.

Although able to push back the French line between Soissons and Noyon the Germans have been unable to break it and while continuing their strong attacks there, are making most violent attempts from the line of the Marne to north of the Ourcq. The intention probably is to outflank the northern sector by forcing back the sector south of Soissons to west of Villers-Cotterets.

Heavy fighting continued all day Sunday east of Villers-Cotterets and the forest of the same name east of the town. Late Saturday the French had retaken four towns in this region. Under enemy pressure the French again were compelled to give up Faverolles, about three miles southwest of Villers-Cotterets.

Assuming the initiative west of Neuilly-St-Front, the French recaptured Passy-en-Valois, southeast of Faverolles, and Hill 163 nearby. German attacks elsewhere southward toward the Marne at Chateau-Thierry were repulsed, Paris reports.

The Germans have not crossed the Marne and apparently have not made very strong efforts to do so. They now hold a greater part of Chateau-Thierry, with the French maintaining a foothold in the western section.

On the eastern wing the Germans who crossed the Dormans-Reims road and took Ville-en-Tardenois have been driven from Champlatt. Around Reims the situation is unchanged, the Germans probably hoping that their advance from Ville-en-Tardenois will outflank the allied troops in the Rheims sector.

In seven days the Germans have driven a dangerous salient in the allied line and have met with some success in attempting to link the new salient with the one driven toward Amiens in March. In addition to this other captures the Germans took a huge amount of Franco-American stores at Fere-en-Tardenois, the booty including 500,000 artillery shells, much material and 1,000 vehicles.

There has been little activity elsewhere on the western front including the American sectors. British airmen continue their bombing raids and have accounted for 25 more airplanes. On the Toul sector in a combat between four American airplanes and six German machines one enemy biplane was shot down and one American machine was sent down in flames.

German airmen again have dropped bombs on hospitals behind the British lines. The raid lasted two hours. One hospital was demolished and a large number of patients and workers were killed or wounded.

A counter revolutionary plot which involves a large part of Russia has been discovered in Moscow and Petrograd. A state of siege has been declared in Moscow and many arrests have been made by the Bolshevik government. Some important railway lines and junctions have been captured by the mutinous Czech-Slovak troops while in the south the Kuban and Don Cossacks situation threatens revolt. The food to be sent in northern Russia is said to be serious now that the Ukraine is in German control and the Kuban and Don districts are being harassed by counter revolution organizations.

HELP NATURE TO DEFEAT THE DISEASE IN YOUR BODY.

Keep up the fight; do not give up. Nature is trying to serve you in conquering the wrongs that may exist. Red blood, vim, courage, vitality, all seem lacking. No wonder you are nervous and discouraged.

Why do you aid a strong, dependable ally? Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has for over forty years proven its merits as a most powerful tonic and blood builder to the many thousands who have been returned to good health by its use.

Clear the coated tongue, get rid of unsightly skin trouble. Let this remarkable remedy rid your body of the impurities of the blood, let it tone and strengthen you. It often cures the lingering chronic cough.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is absolutely a herbal tonic, free from alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs. All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—"Some years ago Dr. Pierce's medicine saved my mother's life. She had been sick for some time with woman's weakness and along with this she contracted a very bad cough. She doctor'd but seemed to get worse instead of better, when at last she became bedfast. She gradually grew weaker until the doctors gave her up. We sent and got Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for her, and when she had taken the first bottle she was much improved. We kept up its use until she had taken nine bottles, when she was well, healthy and strong. Golden Medical Discovery also cured me of a chronic cough which had bothered me for years. I do highly recommend the 'Discovery' to all who are in need of medicine of this kind."—Mrs. ALICE OAKMAN, 1214 Norwood Boulevard.

DES KIRK WRITES OF MILITARY LIFE IN A FRENCH CAMP

Des. B. Kirk, former sporting editor of the Advocate, now serving in the headquarters company of the 56th Artillery, C. A. C., has written the following letter to a friend in this city:

A. P. O., May 2.
Friend Harry: There are so many things we can't write about that even though I have access to a typewriter this afternoon that isn't working, there isn't a whole lot of news I can write you. But at that you doubtless get more news over there than we do here—that is, you do if things are as they were when I was in America. Through the Paris editions of the New York Herald and Chicago Tribune we get the gist, but the high lights are lacking, and Herbert Kaufmann and Irving Cobbs aren't writing for the soldiers.

It's interesting, however, and it has been so ever since we pulled out of Port Wright on what some writer termed "the great adventure." Our trip overseas was made on a large vessel that made good time, and as the Atlantic was like a mill pond, or Buckeye Lake on a hot summer day, only a few were seasick. There wasn't a thrill furnished us—no one even thought he saw a sub, although rewards had been offered for a genuine warning. Everyone heard and everyone knew we were going to England, and for that reason we landed in France. Was a little sorry for since this a personally conducted tour, I wanted to see a little of John Bull's land. The day we landed I knew why the country was called "Sunny France." It was glorious, especially after the long trip. Since then I've wondered, for we have been dodging rain most of the time.

We managed to see quite a lot of the country before we unslung packs at this post and for a wonder France is just as interesting, quaint and attractive as books and pictures show it to be. But in some ways it is woefully behind the times, from an American viewpoint. When one takes a walk through some of the villages or cities as I have done one seems to drop back a few centuries. Everything looks as it must have looked a hundred or two years ago. The streets are very narrow and paved with cobble stones; the sidewalks narrow and everyone walks on the streets. But as there is little vehicular traffic "go, go, stop, stop" isn't needed. All buildings are flush with the sidewalks, for in ages gone by land must have been controlled by a few and for that reason was at a premium—maybe it is just habit though. Lawns aren't known. Cheers from the family man.

We are supposed to salute all French officers, and if you could see the variety of uniforms they wear you can imagine our difficulties. The French are strong for colors and honestly costumes in comic operas aren't exaggerated at all. In addition we have to keep track of Italian, Russian and English uniforms. Have seen quite a few German prisoners in their polygot outfits but of course salutes aren't wasted.

We have a good mess and after a long hike you ought to see the men line up with their mess kits for chow, then squat down on the ground or on anything they can find and eat. Nothing fancy about it but it's mighty satisfying. We sleep on grass-filled bed sacks, rolled up in our blankets, and if not as comfortable as in our beds at home at least we sleep without anyone singing an evening lullaby. For light at night we have candles and no one kicks about dropping back to great-grandfather's time.

Can't tell you what we are doing or rumors of the future, but we'll manage to keep right busy, can't worry about that, but you'll have to wait until the melee is over to hear the things you probably will want to hear.

The French have suffered, but they are a long way from being in serious difficulties. They are well clothed and well fed and the long years of war haven't broken their spirits in the least. They are head over heels in love with the Americans and we have some good times. Talked to a soldier who had been at the front since 1914 and he says, "He is right, but no one can tell. The Americans are giving a good account of themselves and with a big army such as we are getting the Huns won't stand a chance. Best regards to all, Des Headquarters Company, 56th Artillery, C. A. C., American Expeditionary Force, A. P. O., France.

Most Desirable Utility.

If I were asked to name what, in my opinion, is the most desirable utility in modern life, I would not name the railroad, the telephone, the electric light, the automobile, the big bats with their fine features, nor the women's dresses. I would name running water in the house.—Governor Craig, North Carolina.

About the only fellow for whom there is no room in the army is the one who feels he is too good for his job.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.

Roy Stewart.

Fritz Ridgeway, who supports Roy Stewart in his latest Triangle picture "The Legend of Jim Benton" at the Grand theatre tonight, brings a big surprise on Director Cliff Smith and the rest of the company when they were filming the picture. When first east with Stewart she was asked if she could ride and replied, "a little." Although it is a western drama, Director Smith declared she would not need to be a very good rider, as she was supposed to be a school marm from the east, but that she would have to be on horseback a good deal.

Then came the surprise. Fritz was given a broncho and mounted it on the run. During the entire picture he rode the broncho, and the approval of even the cowboys and then she let them in on the secret. Fritz spent many of her early years in Montana and used to ride horseback to the nearest school.

ALHAMBRA.

Monday and Tuesday.

"Souls Redeemed," to be shown at the Alhambra theatre tonight and tomorrow, features the following players: Sheldon Lewis, featured with Pearl White and the comedy "The Iron Claw," Marie Shotwell, featured in "Enlighten Thy Daughter," and "Witching Hour," Theodore Priebe of the Foxes, comedy, and Castle Square theatre, Boston. Charlotte Ives, a Moscow star, recently associated with E. H. Sothern in the Agnaphor picture "The Man of Mystery," Walter Hampden, the recognized interpreter of the Good Samaritan, formerly star in "The Servant in the House."

In our story we have two dramatic forces. Those of good and those of evil. There are the men and women as they come down the ages since Adam and Eve. We develop this story by first showing the beginning, when the first transgressors were expelled from Heaven for their wrongdoing. We see the fallen angels, Hell and on Earth intent and spread the scourge of evil. We see Satan and Sin in the Garden of Eden, and Sin tempts Eve, who is not strong enough to resist the temptation of the desire of the flesh and win. We then pass on to a later civilization, and see the Magdalene about to be stoned because she was vanquished in the warfare of mind with matter. The Good Samaritan comes to her rescue, and the machinations of Satan and Sin are thus frustrated in a conflict with Good. Then there is a quick transition to the present era, and again we see Satan and Sin casting their cunning shadows over the affairs of mankind and accelerating evil, in the guise of a lady and gentleman of their leisure class. They temporarily beat the vision of weak men and women thrown into the maelstrom of life. In the stress of circumstances our heroine is about to give up her fight, but her sweet-faced little beauty who officiates at the perfume counter in one of his father's mammoth department stores, Preston's folks as well as his aristocratic fiancée are off on a yachting cruise, and the family mansion has been left in charge of a young book-taker. So Preston offers to give the time of her life, asking her to state each evening throughout the week where she wants to go.

We see them on successive nights dining at a swell hotel, attending a musical comedy, taking in movies, amusements at a summer resort, and dancing at a cabaret. A policeman who sees Linnie driven to her humble home at night after midnight, communicates his suspicions to Linnie's pugnacious brother, Dick. It is Linnie's whim to spend the last evening at the Preston home, where she is apparently tempted beyond her strength. While Preston is making love to her, Dick bursts through an open window, so a violent encounter leads up to an unusual denouement.

This feature ran for two weeks in Columbus with advanced prices, and Mr. Fenberg will offer it here at the usual Auditorium scale. The showings are continuous, that is, from 1:30 in the afternoon until 5:00, and then starting at 6:20 and ending at 10:20. This is a feature that none should miss for whatever screened it has created a sensation. It is shown from this theatre on account of the excessive heat, for really it's cooler in

"Did you ever have a good time?" is the question that Preston Winfield, a young man of wealth and leisure, puts to Linnie Randall, a girl but sweet-faced little beauty who officiates at the perfume counter in one of his father's mammoth department stores. Preston's folks as well as his aristocratic fiancée are off on a yachting cruise, and the family mansion has been left in charge of a young book-taker. LIKE SCENE FROM FAIRYLAND

Correspondent's Graphic Portraiture of Children Leaving Petrograd Cathedral After Services.

I was just crossing the snowy square in front of St. Isaac's, returning from the last mass before the midnight Easter service, when suddenly—were the gates of Fairyland flung open?
Down the aisle of columns, out from among the dusky pillars of the great cathedral, in twos and threes—or sometimes alone, a voluminous shawled and aproned nyanya in the background—came figures—gravelly intent little figures, each carefully shielding his candle with tiny, cupped hands or twists of white paper, the yellow candle light flaring up into faces as cherubic as Reynolds' "Age of Innocence," but weighted with all the sweet solemnity of Miltonic angels;
children bearing home sacred candles lighted at the altar of their own Lares and Penates. Out from among the in-scrutable shadows and down the steps of the vast cathedral they flickered and floated in twos and threes; and still farther down the canyons of the dark streets, the spirit lights wavering and gleaming like myriad will-o'-thewispis, phantom ships floating on a phantom tide. It reminded me of nothing so much as of that night of ancestor worship in the East, when lotus lanterns burning for the dead are set adrift on river and bay and far out to sea.—Olive Glibbreath in Harper's Magazine.

CHINAMEN "FEED THE DEAD"

Religious Ceremony Faithfully Observed by Celestials, Wherever They May Be Living.

Chinamen still observe the religious ceremony of "feeding the dead." The food is intended as a propitiatory offering to the Chinese evil spirit. The offerings vary according to the habits and tastes of the occupants of the graves.

"At the grave of one," says an eyewitness of a feast, "his friend, after digging holes in the hard ground with his knife, stuck up two candles, and laid out several sets of chop-sticks and as many small cups, which he filled with wine; then he placed on the grave some bowls of rice, a package of cigarettes, and a small vessel of opium.
Afterward he made several bows and genueflections, as if inviting his dead friend or the other party to set to.

"A number of fires were burning in the vicinity, and on these were placed pieces of paper with squares of imitation gold leaf pasted on them representing gold coin; other squares with silver foil represented silver coin; and smaller squares, punched full of holes, represented the brass 'cash,' which has a hole in the center. Some burned small garments made of paper, and thus furnished a new suit to their deceased friends at a small cost. After the provisions had been displayed long enough to give the spirit enough to satisfy himself, they were carefully brought back to town."

Paper Scarce in Wartimes.

During the War of the Revolution persons engaged in the manufacture of paper were exempted from conscription. As the war advanced the supply of paper for cartridges and wadding ran so low that the government advised for it and finally ordered the public to produce all they had, even sending files of soldiers to search for the indispensable article where there was any likelihood of finding it.
In the garret of a house where Benjamin Franklin once had his printing office were found 2,500 copies of a sermon by a Philadelphia divine on "Defensive War." These were seized and used to make cartridges for the battle of Monmouth. The results of the battle showed conclusively that it was "a most striking discourse." During the Civil war common news paper sold for 25 cents per pound, and ten years later it sold for 10 cents per pound.

Taught That All Was Dream.

As far back as the fourth and third centuries B. C. Chuang Tzu, the brilliant Chinese mystic, taught that this life is really a dream. He said:
"Those who dream of a banquet,
awake to lamentation and sorrow.
Those who dream of lamentation and sorrow wake to join the hunt. While they dream they do not know that they dream. Some even interpret the dream they are dreaming; and only when they wake do they know it was a dream.
By-and-by comes the great awakening, and then we find that this life is really a great dream."

"Fools think they are awake now, and flatter themselves they know if they are really princes, or peasants, Confucius and you are both dreamers; and I, who say you are dreamers, I am but a dream myself."

Diving Water Birds.

Water birds which are ordinarily able to float high on the water can also sink at will by expelling the air which is inclosed within the film of feathers surrounding their bodies,
thus making them heavier than water.
This mechanical trick on the part of diving birds is probably familiar to all who have watched the kingfisher at close quarters, and have noted the sudden contraction in the bird's apparent size as it takes the plunge.
This is more easily observed in the case of the starling, which sometimes imitates the kingfisher by plunging into water for food. The shrinkage of the bird in apparent size is very noticeable when after hovering above the surface, it turns downwards to dive.

New Records For

Your Talking Machine

Nora Bayes! Don't you love to settle down comfortably in your seat and see her come romping across the stage with her rollicking "Hello!
Everybody?" This month she sings for Columbia a song that with all its humor, has a bit of sound advice to a certain named William who lives in Berlin. The song is "Regretful Blues," sung as only Nora Bayes can sing it. On the reverse is "A Little Bit of Sunshine," by the same popular comedienne.

"The Russians were Rushin', the Balkans were Balkin' and Turkey was squawkin'."—Have you ever heard words so perfectly sing themselves?
Well, that's the way "The Yanks started Yankin'" runs all the way to the end. You simply can't help catching the lilt of melody—any more than you can help laughing over the catchy, clever words. It is one of the features of Columbia's June group of records.

Another record from this list which stands out for sparkling humor is "I'm in Love," sung by Gus Van.
When a man gets as far gone as Mr.
Van appears to have gotten, one would think his predicament anything but funny—yet there is a scream of laughter in every line.

Another debut to Columbia's credit! This month it is Van and Schenck, perhaps the most popular male team on the vaudeville circuits.
Everybody knows their rollicking humor—expressed in songs that are always hits. This month they sing "In the Land of Yamo Yamo"— a record you will surely want.

"Annie Rooney," "After the Ball,"
"Sweet Rosie O'Grady"—can you read these titles without a surge of fond memories. They are only three of twelve beautiful old-time songs that have been put on a single Columbia record this month—to wait time, and played by Prince's Band.
Here is dance music plus!

Forty-five sparkling numbers comprise the June list of Columbia records. Straccini sings a wonderful bit from "Traviata," Mr. Stran-sky leads the Philharmonic through the "Martha Overture" and the "Stradella Overture"; Al Jolson has a sunny song hit, and so on down the list of famous artists, popular entertainers, instrumental and vocal selections.

JUNE IS HERE!
THE FIRST REAL SUMMER MONTH

The time when every woman is planning her summer clothes.

The New Summer Dresses

Are a succession of delights. All women want at least one sheer gown—nothing looks cooler on a warm summer day—nothing is cooler than a filmy gown of a sheer fabric. The new frocks are developed into such attractive styles, from such beautiful materials, that it is hard to decide which is the more handsome, the model or the material.

There are pretty white dresses in sheer weaves, fancy organdies, volles, fine tissue gingham, in large plaids and stripes. Many of these stylish models are a combination of a plain and fancy material, while others show self trimming. We suggest that you see these beautiful dresses now while the line is complete and incidentally we suggest that you see the $10.00 and $15.00 many styles at.

What Would Summer Be Without Pretty White Skirts?

And this season, above all, stylish white skirts and attractive shirt waists will be very popular, for every occasion. Then the models are stunning—large fancy pockets, odd striped belts and large buttons forming the trimming. Materials are white gabardine, pique, etc. Splendid models $2.50, $3.50 and $5.00 each.

Girls Dresses

Have the same fashionable air as those of the grown-ups. In our present display is a big assortment of gingham dresses, in plaids, stripes or plain colors, made in jumper effects or the pleated skirts, while others are the plain straight dresses. In white are pretty middie dresses or sheer lawns, with lace or embroidery finish. Pretty styles $2.50 to $5.00.

WAR CHEST HUTS ARE TENDERED TO THE FAIR BOARD

The war chest committee has tendered two huts on the public square, used in the war chest campaign, to the Licking County Agricultural Society. The third hut was demolished before the tender was made and the fourth will be used in war-work and may later be turned over to the fair board with the other two.

The fair board will meet in a short time and in all probability accept the war committee's offer. They would then be leased to concessionaries during the fair and would command a good lease price for the reason that a great saving would be effected in having a stand ready prepared.

The huts could be moved as a whole without damaging them to any appreciable extent.

WORRY OVER SONS IN ARMY CAUSES DEATH

Worry over three sons who are in the service, probably caused the sudden death of Mrs. Michael P. O'Shaughnessy at her home in Popular avenue shortly after midnight this morning. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was ill but half an hour, worry causing an acute attack of indigestion.

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy is survived by six sons, Walter O'Shaughnessy, who is in the navy and stationed at Portsmouth, Va.; Lieut. John O'Shaughnessy, of the Cooks and Bakers school at Tacoma, Wash.; Vincent O'Shaughnessy with an infantry company at Sparta, N. C.; and Herman H. Leo and Tom of the home, also three daughters, Mrs. De Behao and Mary and Sarah of the home.

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was a member of St. Francis de Sales church. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

AGRESS TO PLACE FINNISH ARMY UNDER GERMAN LEADERSHIP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, June 3.—A secret convention exists between Germany and Finland which is kept secret from the Finnish diet, by which the Finnish government undertakes to establish a monarchy under a German dynasty and to place the Finnish army under German leadership, according to a dispatch to the Times, from Stockholm, quoting the Socialist newspaper Politiken which has sources of information among the independent socialists in Germany.

Finland, it is added, agrees also not to cede the Aland Islands to Sweden and to allow Germany to use the islands for a naval base. Germany further will be permitted to use Finland as a passage way through to the Arctic ocean. Finland agrees to take efficient measures to combat anarchy.

Germany will have the right to maintain a military force in Finland until all the conditions are carried out.

IS LIMITED TO JOINT MILITARY OPERATIONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Peking, Thursday, May 30.—The Japanese foreign office announces that the recently signed convention between China and Japan is limited to joint military operations in defense against the German menace in Liberia. Notes exchanged between the two countries on Mar. 25 were made public today by the foreign office. The first, from China to Japan, says: "The means and condition of the co-operation of the army and navy of China and Japan are compatible with a common military defense against an enemy, for the realization of which plans may be decided upon by mutual agreement of both countries. They will be arranged by the military and naval authorities of both countries who from time to time will consult with each other freely and carefully upon all questions of mutual interest and upon approval of the governments. They will be carried into action according to the demands of the circumstance.

On the same date Viscount Motono, the foreign minister, replied: "I propose on behalf of my government, the period in which the notes will remain in force be determined by competent military and naval authorities of the two powers. At the same time the imperial government is happy to declare that Japanese troops within Chinese territory for the purpose of such defensive measures will be withdrawn completely upon the termination of the war."

The third note was merely the formal acknowledgment by the Chinese government of Viscount Motono's reply.

TEXTILE WORKERS OUT ON STRIKE AT N. BEDFORD, MASS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New Bedford, Mass., June 3.—The textile mills of this city employing 35,000 operations were shut down today in consequence of a general strike called by the textile council last night. One-third of the operatives have been engaged in government contracts.

The mill gates were opened at the usual time. Most of the operatives were on hand. They took their clothing and such tools as were their personal property and went away without any demonstration.

In the early hours there was no picketing.

Labour leaders and representatives of the manufacturers conferred during the forenoon with William Z. Ripley, administrator of labor standards, who came here at the request of Secretary of War Baker to try to effect a settlement.

It is estimated that cloth for government purposes comprises about 25 per cent of the production of the mills. The textile council, which originally sought a 25 per cent advance in wages for the operatives, as opposed to the manufacturers' offers of 12 1/2 per cent last week, modified its demand to 20 per cent. The manufacturers then agreed to a 15 per cent increase which the council rejected. The strike was then voted.

THE MOVEMENT IN FAVOR OF ALLIES GROWS IN RUSSIA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, June 3.—The movement within Russia in favor of the cause of the allies is increasing and has been strengthened by President Wilson's recent declaration of sympathy for Russia, says a Petrograd dispatch to the Daily Express.

The Russian democracy also is enthusiastic over recent steps taken by the British government to show its friendship.

The Novoe Vedomosti in a long article defends the policy of the allies and expresses gratitude for President Wilson's friendly utterances.

You never can tell. Some men die hard, and others are dead easy.

FIELD MASS FOR HEAVY ARTILLERY AT CAMP SHERMAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., June 3.—In the brilliant mantle of a breaking dawn, Knights of Columbus workers and soldiers of camp today observed the first field mass conducted in honor of Colonel T. Q. Ashburn and soldiers of the 324th Heavy Field Artillery.

The spectacle was the most impressive and inspiring since the great camp's inspection less than a year ago. Before the altar, placed on a platform on the parade grounds in section K, nearly 8,000 troops, Catholics and Protestants, stood with heads bared as Lieutenant V. T. Toole, chaplain of the 324th conducted the services.

The altar was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, gathered by the troops from the hills surrounding the camp. Over the altar was Old Glory and on each side, the flags of our allies.

Before the simple altar, stood Toole with Captain Tenmy Martin of the French army, clad in his vivid blue uniform, as server. Near the altar were Colonel Ashburn and other high officers of the camp. Before the altar, a sea of khaki.

"You are going overseas soon to preserve those two great Republics—France and the United States—and to strike and silence forever the ungodly Huns," Father Toole told the troops.

The military field mass closed with officers, soldiers and K. of C. workers singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." The 324th Field Artillery band accompanied.

Steps may be taken by high officials at camp toward the establishment by martial law in cities and villages near camp. Consideration is being given the matter following the issuance of reports in violation to the camp's censorship regulations.

No new camp Taylor boys from Louisville have reached this camp within the past day.

ENEMY HELD IN CHECK BY FRENCH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, June 3.—An allied offensive maneuver is predicted by Le Matin and the Petit Parisien. They express the conviction that Generals Foch and Petain, who proved food offensive men in subordinate commands will display the same qualities in the supreme commands of the allied and the French armies.

All the newspapers, according to a Havas agency review, believe that the equilibrium seems to have been re-established on all points of the front and that the fluctuations are growing less in extent.

The Germans assaults are still furious and violent, while the French resistance is fierce and energetic with numerous strong counterattacks. Sunday the French held the enemy in check and even forced him to withdraw from some points.

PORT CLOSED TO OUTGOING SHIPS

Providence, R. I., June 3.—Narragansett Bay was closed to outgoing vessels this morning by order of the commandant of the naval station at Newport.

GERMANY BUYING AVAILABLE CROPS IN CENTRAL ASIA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, June 3.—The Germans steadily are pushing the tenacles of their economic control far into central Asia where they are buying up available crops including cotton and placing orders for many years ahead, says the Daily Chronicle.

The foundation of these developments is in the German control of Rumania and the Ukraine. "Control of the Rumanian and Ukrainian harvests would provide Germany, not only in this, but in any future war with a complete solution of her food problem," the Chronicle adds.

"She would also, thanks to her unlimited access to central Asia have little further trouble with any but tropical raw materials."

"Her eastern policy can only be judged adequately by the allies after they have achieved victory, but more attempts ought to be made now to frustrate present developments."

U. S. PREPARATIONS MOST COMPLETE OF ALL BELLIGERENTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, June 3.—Captain Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner to the United States, in a talk with the correspondent of La Prensa, of Buenos Aires, dilated on the preparations that are being made by the United States to take their full part in the war.

Captain Tardieu said that he gained the knowledge during his visit to the United States that Americans consider the war their own and that their organization for the conduct of hostilities was the most complete of all the belligerents. In 1919, he added, two million Americans would be in France and the Germans, notwithstanding their repatriation of prisoners from Russia would never be able to attain such a number of men on their side. He said that therefore the numerical superiority of the allies was demonstrated. In 1919, Captain Tardieu continued, through its intensive building program, the United States would have twelve million tons of shipping. At present two million tons already had been launched. He said the transportation of troops at the present time was six times greater than some months ago and that less danger was experienced in conveying them across seas. The training of the men also was more rapid than under the English method and the ability of the Americans of learning such maneuvers as bayonet assaults and grenade throwing surpassed that of all the allies.
